

Mark Agrios

(703).638.9648 | magrios@gmail.com | markagrios.net

Curious and motivated student looking to apply creativity and intellect

Education

Currently pursuing a mathematics degree at Virginia Tech, graduating class of 2019
Woodson high school, Fairfax Virginia, graduating class of 2015

Skills

Experienced website developer
Proficient in html, css, javascript
Competent in C, C++, ruby, python, nodejs, j
Amateur photographer and digital/vector image artist
Avid unicyclist
Performing magician

Titles

Woodson high school TSA chapter vice president	2013-2014
Woodson high school Robotics team co-captain	2012-2014
Woodson high school Robotics team president	2014-2015
Virginia Tech Gaming Project organization chief website developer (http://www.vtgamingproject.org.vt.edu/)	2015-present
VT Hacks III Second place out of 56 teams for our product pushbuddy.me	February 26-28 2016
Designer and Website Developer for AnswerWare (http://answerware.com)	Summer 2016

Experience

- Web developer and designer of PushBuddy. A simple yet powerful desktop program to easily synchronize various cloud services that won second place at the Virginia Tech annual hackathon (www.pushbuddy.me)
- Lead programmer for Woodson high school robotics team. Focused mainly on color camera data interpolation and infrared orientation.
- Co-founder, web designer, and statistics analyst of small startup: StarCat Clothing Company (starcattcc.com)
- Pinnacle Academy robotics team mentor 2014-2015. Taught kids strategy, mechanics, and code used to construct robots for competition.